By private advices from the plains we learn that the Casner boys who came from Arizona had arrived at Dyer's ranch to take charge of the stock of their brothers who were killed by Sostenes Archibeque. They also found evidence implicating Nicholas Martin in the tragedy and killed him. This rumor is further confirmed by a letter from Mr. Goodnight to the Pueblo Daily Chieftain which states that the Casners had killed Nicholas Martin and that two other men, one by the name of Hull and the other by the name of McKnabb were interested with Martin in the murder and robbery. They found some of the gold taken from the murdered men which had been changed by Hull and McKnabb. The Chieftain gives the following description of the two men:
A reward of two hundred dollars is offered for the arrest of McKnabb and Hull. McKnabb is about thirty years of age, red hair and beard, florid complexion, speaks with a Scotch accent. Hull has also a sandy complexion, heavy square built man and stoops a little. They both claim to have been in the employ of Hunter & Evans, at Dodge City, Kansas, last winter. They are supposed to have gone to Great Bend, or Dodge City, Kansas.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Wagner's Hotel in this issue. Mr. Wagner has been busily refitting and repairing his house for several weeks past, and is now prepared to furnish the very best accommodations to the public. He always sets a good table and persons visiting the Territory and stopping at Las Vegas will find it a first class house at which to put up. Strangers coming to town always inquire first as to good hotel accommodations. Here they will find them.

A lecturer on Phenology and a Professor of permanship visited this town on Monday and lectured in the Presbyterian church to a large and enthusiastic audience. After about an hour's session the crowd adjourned to Wagner's Hotel, where the Professor enlightened several citizens upon their development of bumps and ability for bumpers.

R. J. Hamilton of Chaperito sends us some specimens of quartz from the Jicarilla mines, containing the precious metals. Without an assay we can not judge of its value, but it looks well and indicates a mineral country. Go in gentlemen, we think the Jicarillas will pan out the biggest fortunes of any mines in the west yet.

These dull times, it would be well if Lerdo de Tejada would make a strike for the Presidency of Mexico. He could institute a war all along the Texas and New Mexico frontier and obtain enough filibusters from the United States to re-instate him in office with ease. Go in Lerdo.

Private advices from Fort Bascom are to the effect that the large herds of sheep in that vicinity have progressed finely in lambing and that the young lambs are nearly all saved, owing to the excellent growth of young grass for the mothers.

We have received a copy of the Kansas City Price Current's Review of the Trade and Commerce of Kansas City. It is a neatly gotten up pamphlet of 54 pages and contains a large amount of valuable information.

The lands on the opposite side of the river, near the upper town, belonging to Don Aniceto Baca and Don José Albino Baca have been enclosed by substantial board fences.

In the Sweet By-and-By.
Cannot but be the happy thought as the fortunate recipient of the "Rocky Mountain Tourist" scans its wonderfully attractive pages and peruses its fascinating descriptions. Most beautifully embellished with new and highly artistic engravings, its letter-press a model of typographical richness, and the arrangement throughout simply superb, the ROCKY MOUNTAIN TOURIST is worthy of comparison with Picturesque America or The Aldine. It is written in gossipy, graphic style, covering details of the tour through the garden of the South west (the Arkansas Valley, Southern Kansas), to the very heart of the Alps of America—the Rocky Mountains. Jaunts are made to all famous resorts of Colorado, the remarkable ruins, the springs, the mines, and, in short, to every point of interest to tourist, agriculturist, capitalist, miner, and invalid. With the TOURIST, the SAN JUAN GUIDE keeps fitting company, and the two publications are mailed free to all writing for one or both to T. J. ANDERSON, Topeka, Kansas. 214

The Enterprise & Chronicle of Trinidad is doing the fair thing by New Mexico and we hope this enterprising chronicler may meet with substantial encouragement from our good people. Just keep up your link and in connection with the GAZETTE, we will show 'em how to build up a Territory and fashion a state.

Don Desiderio Romero and other citizens living on the east side of the river have constructed a substantial foot bridge across the stream opposite Judge Hubbell's residence.

While we had a good soaking rain here this week, Colorado was favored with about a foot of snow. It is getting too late in the season for the beautiful.

It is rumored that the grasshopper crop has been ignominiously nipped in the blossom by the late cold, and severe rains.

The Denver Times comes to us this week with a double sheet. It evidently has a fat take in advertising delinquent tax sales.

Thunder and lightning accompanied the rain Wednesday.

Rain makes grass, but it also makes mud.

Personals.
Jas. D. Wolf has returned to the Jicarilla mines.
Frank Chapman started east on the coach yesterday evening.
T. F. Chapman with a party will start Monday for the Jicarilla mines which he proposes to investigate and if they pan out properly, he will locate a few acres and proceed to take out the precious dirt.
Orlando Smith of this city has invented a Dry Washing apparatus which, if it proves as successful in practice as in experiment, will be a valuable means of making money in some of our rich dry diggings. He has taken the necessary steps to secure his patent.

Let slip the dogs of war, says Alexander, the Czar of all the Russias, and the dogs start forth.

The Grand Duke Alexis of Russia is visiting at Washington. He should be at home leading the Russian armies.

According to the Argus of San Bernardino, 80,000 head of sheep have passed that place en route for New Mexico and Arizona within the last month.

Colorado and Mexican unwashed wool is quoted in the Kansas City Price Current at 17 and 20 cts per pound. Burry and black 5 to 10 cts less.

The claim of Myra Clark Gaines involving millions of dollars in property in New Orleans has recently been decided in her favor, by District Judge Billings. This ends forty years of litigation.

Says the Burlington Hawkeye: "The pioneer bumble bee of 1877 crept out of his hole in the ground yesterday, and after looking around for an hour or two for a boy to sting, found him, stung him, and went back to clean house."

"Then farewell, false one," cried the young man, as he turned and was gone for ever. It was in St. Louis, and the false one had, in her anger, filled the door frame with her foot, shutting out at once her lover and the light of day.

The impression prevails among public men that the extra session of Congress soon to be called will not be a short one, but a long and stormy term. Many Republicans are on the war path against Hayes on account of his Southern policy.

Eureka (Nev.), April 16.—The severest snow storm of the winter prevails here. It commenced yesterday noon and still continues. Fully three feet has fallen, and stage travel will be blocked and railroad travel may be interfered with.

The New York Sun thinks it a shame that a bold, bad man, like John A. Kasson of Iowa should be appointed Minister to Madrid, when there are such truly good men as Deacon Richard Smith of Cincinnati, willing to take the position.

shall marry each other provided both parties are agreed after seeing each other and getting acquainted. Here is a chance for some of our bachelors to make a winning. The young ladies are guaranteed not only young but nice, sweet and good looking.

From the Enterprise & Chronicle we glean:
A note from Wm. G. Markley informs us that himself and Hartman, with several of their company, arrived at the Jicarilla mining camp on the morning of the 14th, and the others were expected the next day. They were delayed two days by the snow storm of the 10th and 11th. He would write up the situation fully as soon as he was sufficiently rested.

Charles W. Barnes, and O. S. Houghton started for the southern mines on Friday last.

Prof. S. D. Loughhead, and party, passed through Trinidad the other day, bound for the Jicarilla mining district, to introduce the ligation process.

As John Burgham sat, the other night, in the Union Square Theater, behind a lady who wore one of the new tall tower shaped hats, he was reminded of a story about Bateman, the manager. Mr. Bateman, who was a big man with a rich crop of hair he said, was sitting in the theatre one night with his hat on, shutting out the view of the stage from the gentleman in the seat behind him, and the latter touching him lightly on the shoulder, politely said: "Beg pardon, sir: but will you please take your hat off?" Mr. Bateman promptly complied with the request, but had no sooner done so and thrust his fingers through his bushy hair making it stand up like a wall, than the stranger tapped him on the shoulder again, and said: "Beg pardon sir: but will you please put your hat on again?"

A Social Sensation.
Society is stirred by the report from Paris that Mrs. W. C. Ralston has tired of her widow's weeds, and is about to marry. The rumor appears to be reliable, but the name of the gentleman is not known. Inman the artist has been mentioned, but there is not the slightest reason for coupling the two names together so far as the intimate friends of the lady are advised. The information is a surprise to all her acquaintances, who had no suspicions when she left for Europe three or four months ago that she had matrimonial intentions. It will be remembered that she went east with Mr. Sharon in his special car when he returned to take his place in Congress, and soon after her arrival in New York sailed for Europe. Information thus far respecting the matter is by cable, and therefore limited.

"Down in the Mouth."
Where there is a continual dropping down into the back of the mouth, with irritation and inflammation of the nasal cavities and throat, with hawking, spitting, and a sense of fullness about the head, be not deceived or fancy it a simple cold. You are afflicted with that scourge of this climate, Catarrh, the forerunner of Consumption. In its early stages a few bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will effect an entire cure. When confirmed, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery should be used in connection with the Remedy. These standard medicines have been before the public many years, and their use has been attended with the most gratifying success. A full discussion of Catarrh and its rational treatment is contained in "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," a book of over nine hundred pages, illustrated with two hundred and eighty-two engravings, bound in cloth; gilt, price, post-paid, $1.50. He was a bright, intelligent fellow, talked glibly about drugs, said that he kept a drug store in some place in Indiana, he had come in on an evening train, and in his trip up street had been waylaid, knocked down, and robbed by two men who sprung out upon him from an alley. This accounted for his black eye and the fact that he had no money. He had come here to buy a stock of drugs, soaps, liquors, &c. He had sent home for more money. Meantime, he wanted to look around and find the goods. Want he particularly wanted to get was a cheap assortment. We finally struck a bargain, and he told me that I might make the packages up for shipment by express. He next wanted some whiskey—about ten gallons. I had some that I could let him have at $4 a gallon. He said he was a judge; so I poured him out a dose in a glass. He held it up in the light, to look at the color and the head; then he sipped a little of it, allowed it to rest in his mouth, smacked his lips over it, and finally drank it off, and pronounced it a very fair article. He would take ten gallons, and would come around the next day to make up his stock. Then he started for the door, but he halted and returned, and said that he guessed he'd take another taste of that whiskey. I had begun to have my suspicions of the fellow. I remarked: "You are a dead beat; get out of this store." And he got.—Cincinnati Commercial.
